Biology Department, University of Nevada, Reno

Author of The Monkey's Voyage: How Improbable Journeys Shaped the History of Life

A World Shaped by Miracles: Rafting Monkeys and the Nature of Evolutionary History

In this talk, de Queiroz argues that improbable ocean journeys, such as Eocene monkeys rafting across the Atlantic, have profoundly molded evolutionary history all over the Earth—including the evolution of humans—and provide perhaps the most convincing illustrations of the chance nature of deep history.
